YMCA BABY PHOTO CONTEST FINALISTS

Sutherland's Sports Shop was a scene of activity recently when the final count was made in the YMCA Baby Photo Contest. A team of experts counted the money and checked it, and excitement ran high as jar after jar was opened.

Right: YM president Mr M.S. Hughson presents the first prize voucher to Mrs R. Isaacs.

Below, right: Second prize voucher went to Mrs J.N. Mooney.

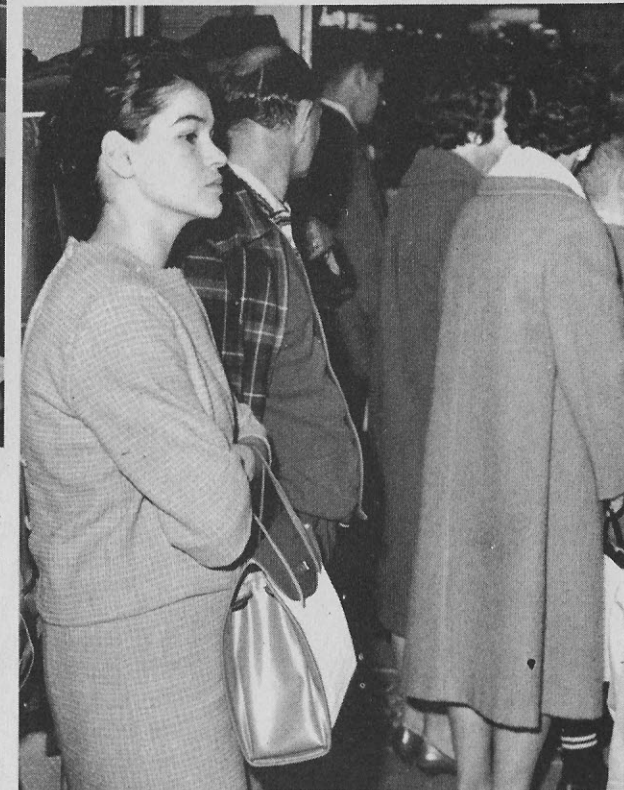

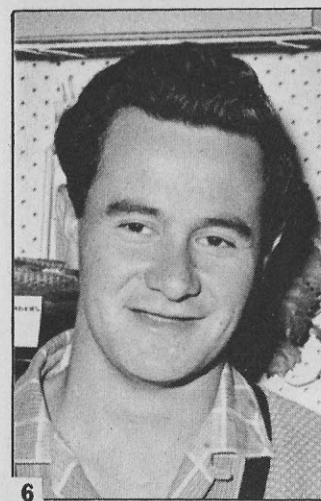

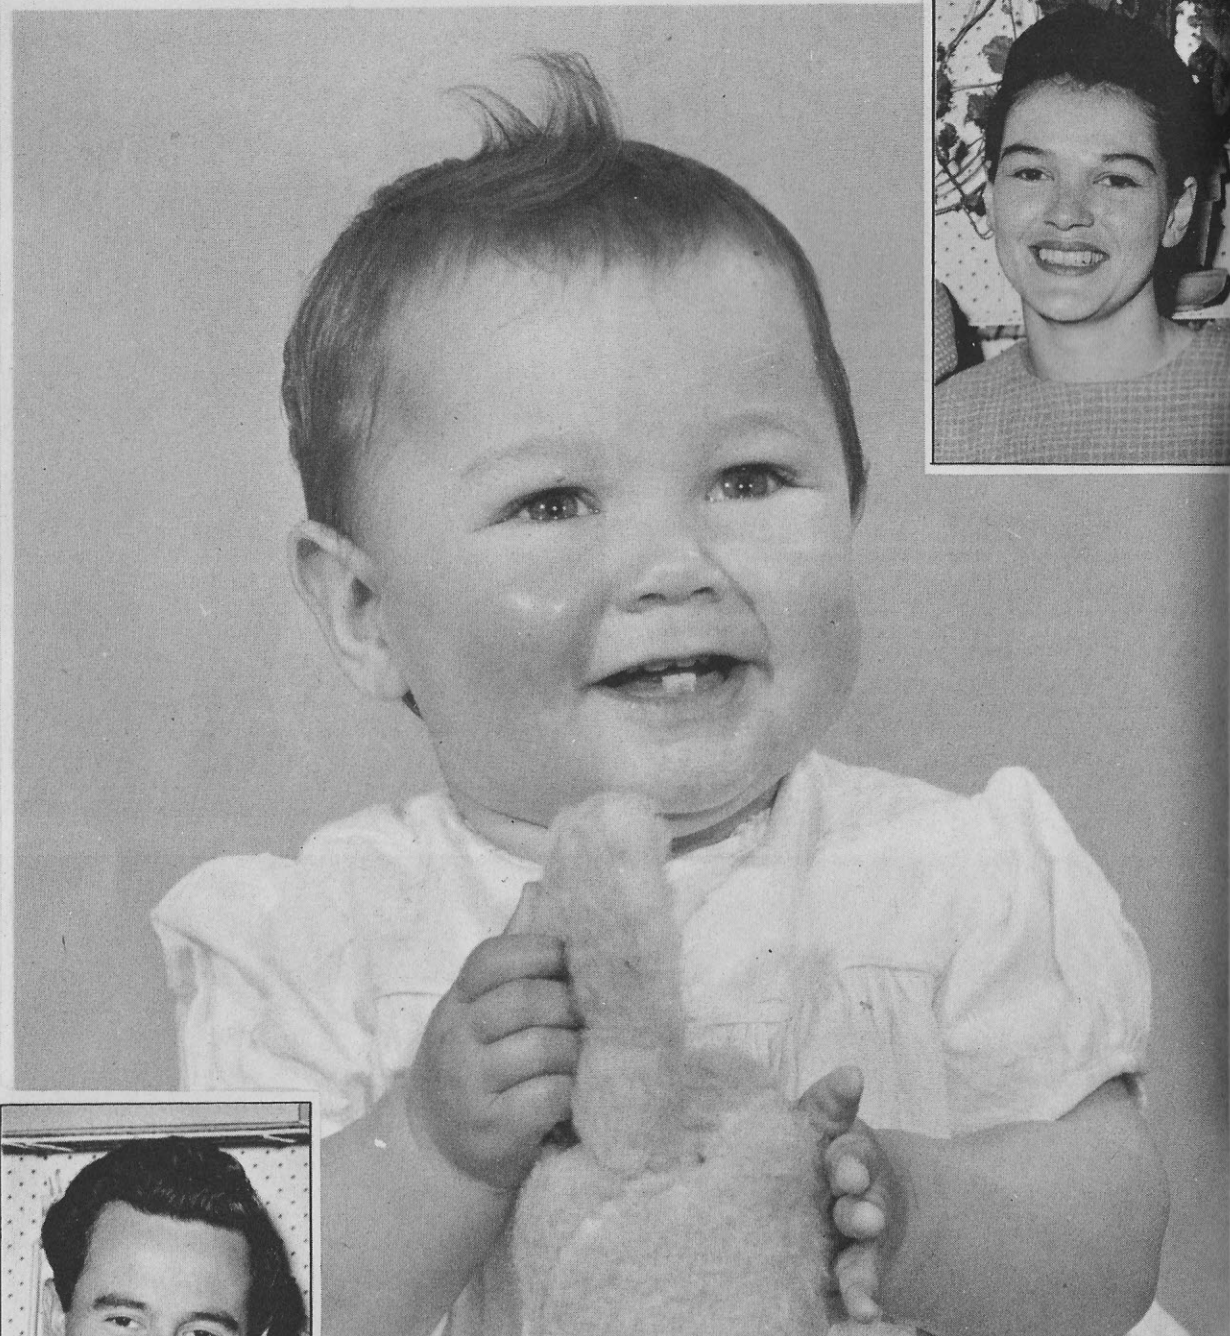

A large crowd gathered for the final count, as interest in the competition mounted. Right on the dot of 8 o'clock the jars were taken into Sutherland's Sports Shop for counting, and as each jar was counted and translated into penny votes, the result was published. When the winning total of 61,000 odd votes was posted a gasp came from the crowd.

Eleven months old Sandra Isaacs, daughter of Mr and Mrs R. Isaacs, Broadway, Waitara, was the winner of the recent YMCA Baby Photo Contest. Sandra topped the poll on the final count with 61,084 penny votes, and has won a trip for two to Fiji. Inset on this page are Sandra's mother and father. The contest was an outstanding success for the YMCA with a profit of several hundred pounds going towards their stadium appeal.

2XP's "Hootnanny"

In place of the annual Big Broadcast Show, the organisers at 2XP decided on a folk song festival, called a Hootnanny. This proved to be an outstanding success and was played to a full house at the NP Girls' High School Assembly Hall. Various groups of singers performed to the delight of the audience. Top of the bill was the nationally-known group, the Convairs, who proved their popularity by the number of encores they performed. Altogether a very successful show and full marks to the producer, Howard Gough, for a grand evening's entertainment.

Named "Tamahinehau" the yawl is entered in the 1963 Whangarei to Noumea ocean race.

The weather was as good as it has been for the opening for many years. The pictures on this page show the kids enjoying their races and lolly scrambles.

Boat Show Was Popular

Each year the Boat Show grows and improves in its presentation. This year's show was the best yet, with dozens of boats on view, besides the number of trade stands. Added to this is the fashion parade which is always well-attended and has become a popular attraction. Above: Robin Lister is seen here modelling a beach dress to a large audience. ## NEW WHITELEY METHODIST CHURCH OPENED

Yet another landmark has risen on the New Plymouth scene in the form of the new Whiteley Methodist church. Now completed and in use, the new church has elicited the most complimentary remarks from all sections of the community. The photographs on this and the next pages clearly show that the new church is a thing of real beauty, lofty and modern, yet dignified in its conception as a place of worship. Above: The altar, made of black stone is a magnificent piece of workmanship. Below: The Maori has not been forgotten in this church, with this beautiful carving. Below, right: The baptismal font is ultra modern in its design, yet simple in its function.

Grace, Beauty and Dignity

Here we present a complete interior view of the new Whiteley Methodist Church, richly carpeted and furnished, where design has added to the beauty and dignity of this very fine building. On entering the church for the first time, the impression almost takes one's breath away with its richness. The building and furniture are insured for £78,000. This church is now the most modern in New Zealand, and even perhaps in the southern hemisphere, so modern is it in design and conception. This will be a living tribute to the architects and builders and to the church elders who had the vision to build such a fine church.

No Right Angles in New Church

Apart from the doors, there are no right angles in the new Whiteley Church building. This must have been a headache for the builders and furnishers, but it has added to the beauty of this building. Above: Here is the pulpit, which was made by one of the congregation, Mr Dick Horrell. A beautiful piece of workmanship of which the church elders should be justly proud. Below: The choir pews also are modern in design. The lectern on the left of the picture and the prayer stool on the right are two more articles of furniture made by Mr Horrell.

A Personal Message from
MR. RON BARCLAY
Labour Party Candidate
for New Plymouth

I thank the "Photo News" for this opportunity to present a personal message to its readers.

On Saturday, Nov. 30, electors will have the opportunity of voting for either Labour or National, and I would urge you all to exercise this democratic right and cast your vote.

My message to you all is simply that you have the choice between a National Party that has a history of a marking-time, "easy does it" policy of doing nothing and leaving things to chance, or a Labour Party which has specific and definite plans to carry out a policy of vigorous action to increase export, farm, manufacturing and workers' incomes.

Apart from this general aspect there is the particular concern so many have for New Plymouth's future.

The city is standing still in so many ways and parents and younger people are worried about future prospects.

As your M.P. I pledge myself to help a Labour government fulfil its policy and to devote my full time to the interests of New Plymouth and its people.

RON BARCLAY

A Personal Message from
MR. E. P. ADERMAN
National Party Candidate
for New Plymouth

Once again I seek the confidence and trust of the people of New Plymouth for another term of service.

Having finally broken through the problems of rehabilitation and rebuilding after World War II, this city is showing many signs of progress and economic stability.

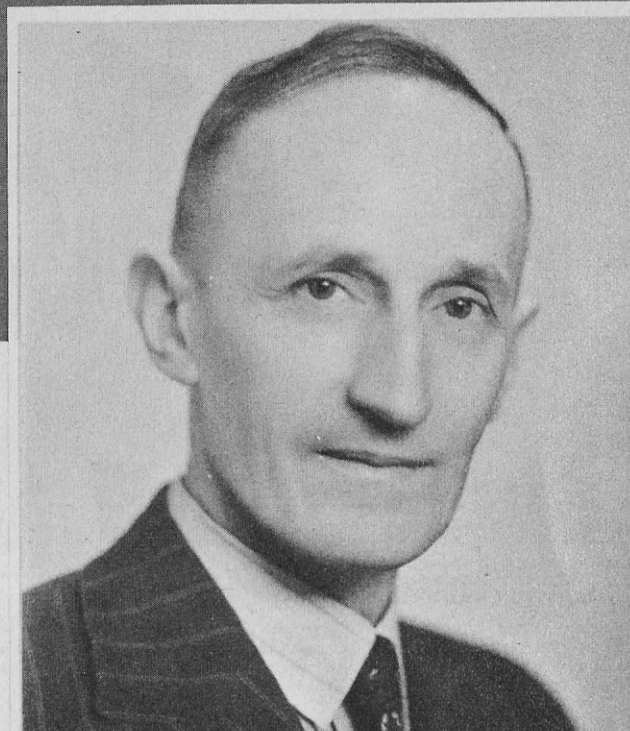

New schools, new housing areas and magnificent buildings are to be seen everywhere. The recent discovery of oil and natural gas in large quantities, together with the planned port development and new airfield, with consequent industrial expansion, gives New Plymouth a wonderful signal to "Go Ahead". Vigorous progress is evident in many spheres. During my parliamentary terms, Government has been involved for constructive purposes to the magnificent sum of £15,000,000. In this development, you, the citizens of New Plymouth, are the participants.

Now that the economy has been stabilised, you can rely on the National Government for even further expansion in its "Go Ahead" policy.

Having had the confidence of some thousands of constituents in regard to their personal problems, I have been able to advocate to my party, further social reforms, (e.g. special assistance), which are now in operation. The new policy includes further improvements to this section of the community.

If re-elected on November 30th my services will once more be given to you all in the same wholehearted way as in the past.

E. P. ADERMAN

"Photo News" has given two pages this month as a "platform" for the candidates for the General Election which takes place next week. As a good citizen, it is your democratic right to vote, and the true feeling of the people of this area is not shown unless there is a 90% vote. As good citizens we urge you to exercise the right and cast your vote on November 30.
