CHIMPS DRAW LARGE CROWDS

Largest crowds at the recent Winter show were to be found watching the antics of the chimps. Before each show started the chimps' trainer, Mr Horobin of Auckland, introduced the baby of the outfit to the children. We're betting a lot of those children would rather have a baby chimp than a baby brother or sister!

First-Class Boxing At Hawera

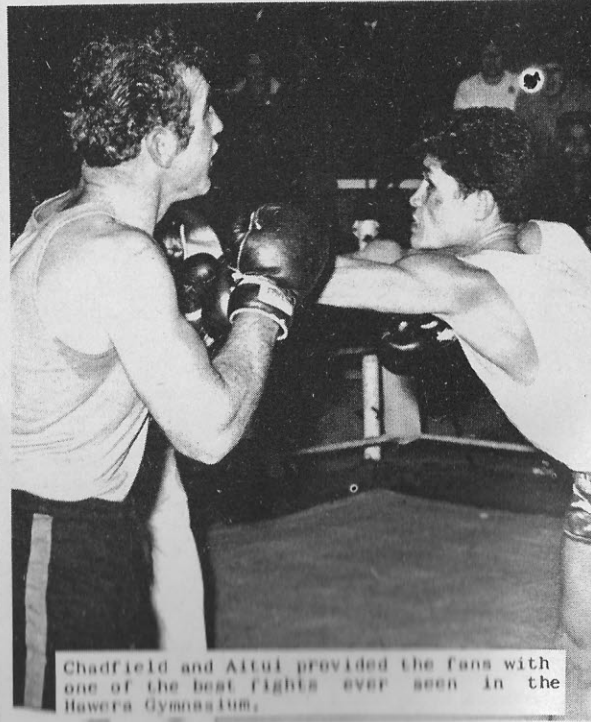

We thought that boxing as a sport was on the wane in this province, but after seeing the bouts at the recent tournament at Hawera we are firmly convinced that there was a showing of some of the best talent, with resulting fights that had the crowd on their toes for most of the night.

The crowd yelled for their favourites

Marfell Kindy Competition

In a drive for funds for a new kindy in Marfell, the committee has organised a novel Kiddie Karnival, in which the six children shown here will represent different areas of the district. With £850 in the kitty, the committee needs a further £350 before a start can be made on the plans for the proposed kindy. These photographs were taken by Vogue Studios, the specialists in child photography.

Don Scott tries a drop kick...but missed

First Class Bout

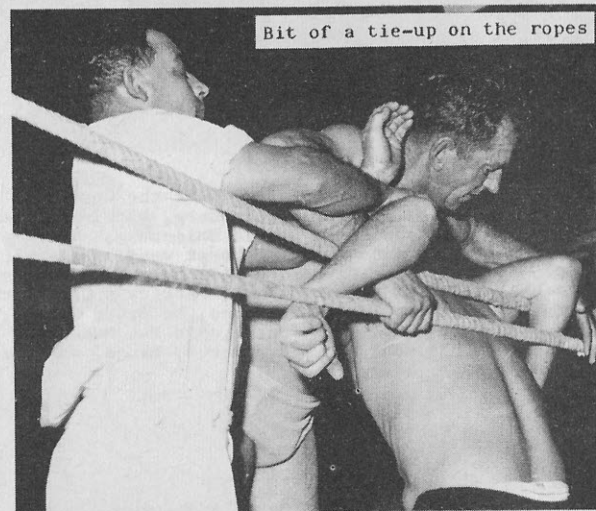

If this bout is a forerunner of others to come, then wrestling in the province is going to improve in popularity. This bout between New Plymouth's Claude Webb and Auckland's Don Scott was action-packed from the first bell, with both men willing to mix it freely. The fight ended sensationally, when Don Scott, tossed out of the ring, failed to return in the allotted time. He was, however, badly bruised and unable to continue.

The Winter Show

Though perhaps a little more interesting this year, attendances were disappointing at the annual Winter Show. More variety is needed to make the show more interesting to a larger section of the community. Stands that did show more interesting exhibits like NAC, the Police and the Post Office drew by far the largest crowds, whereas business firms' stands were very much the same as in previous years. As a suggestion, we feel that this would be better as an industrial show for the whole of Taranaki, which can boast some very interesting businesses. To us, and many visitors to the show, it seemed silly to exhibit cars that the man-in-the-street couldn't buy without overseas funds. Above: Interest never relaxed at the NAC stand which had on view some very interesting working models. Below, left: The Post Office stand was always crowded with spectators. Below, right: Ian Burton and Jeffrey Herbert enjoyed themselves on the Police bike at the Police department stand, which was the centre of interest throughout the show.

CHILDREN ENJOYED THE SHOW MOST

The children seemed to derive most pleasure from the Winter Show, and to follow them would be to find out which are the most interesting exhibits. In the picture above, this exhibition of model trains was never without a crowd of the youngsters viewing with intense interest this very fine working model. For the girls, there was the annual doll show, at which there were over 200 dolls on display. Quite naturally this was the focal point of interest for all the young girls who were taken to the show.

These people are enough to make you go up the wall....

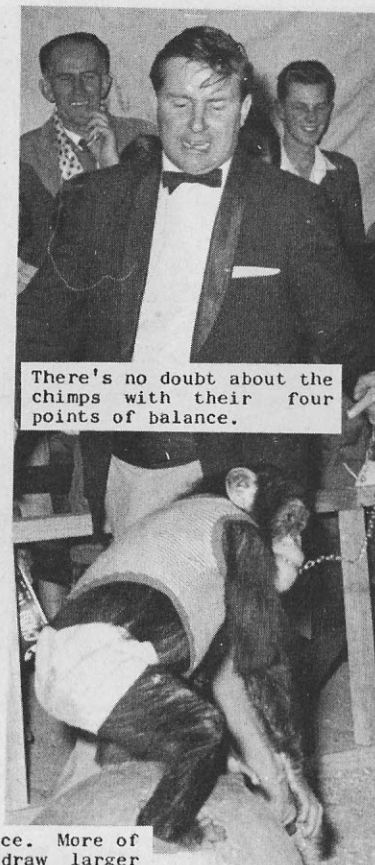

CHIMPS WERE STARS OF WINTER SHOW

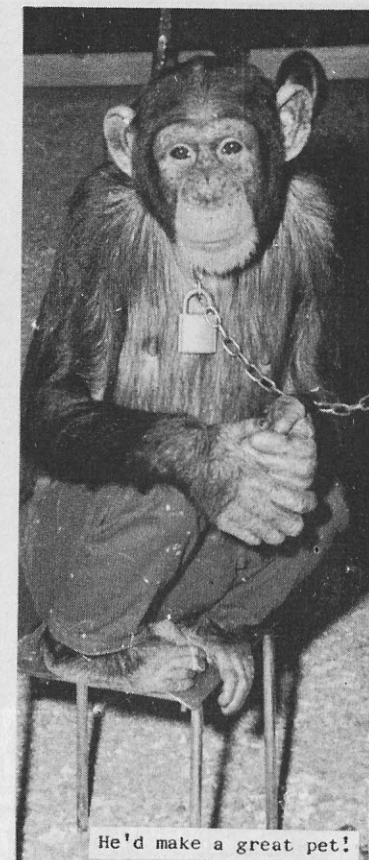

For both young and old, there's little doubt that the chimps were the stars of the Winter Show. That just three little chimps could hold the attention of so many is amazing, but they did, and the tent that housed them was full to capacity for every performance. More of this type of entertainment would draw larger crowds to the show. Good clean fun for all and a real joy for the children.

Townsmomen's 14th Birthday

Fourteen years of service to the community is the proud boast of the NP Townswomen's Guild. It was party time for them recently when they celebrated their birthday with a social in St. Andrew's Hall.

Te Mara Pack's Campfire

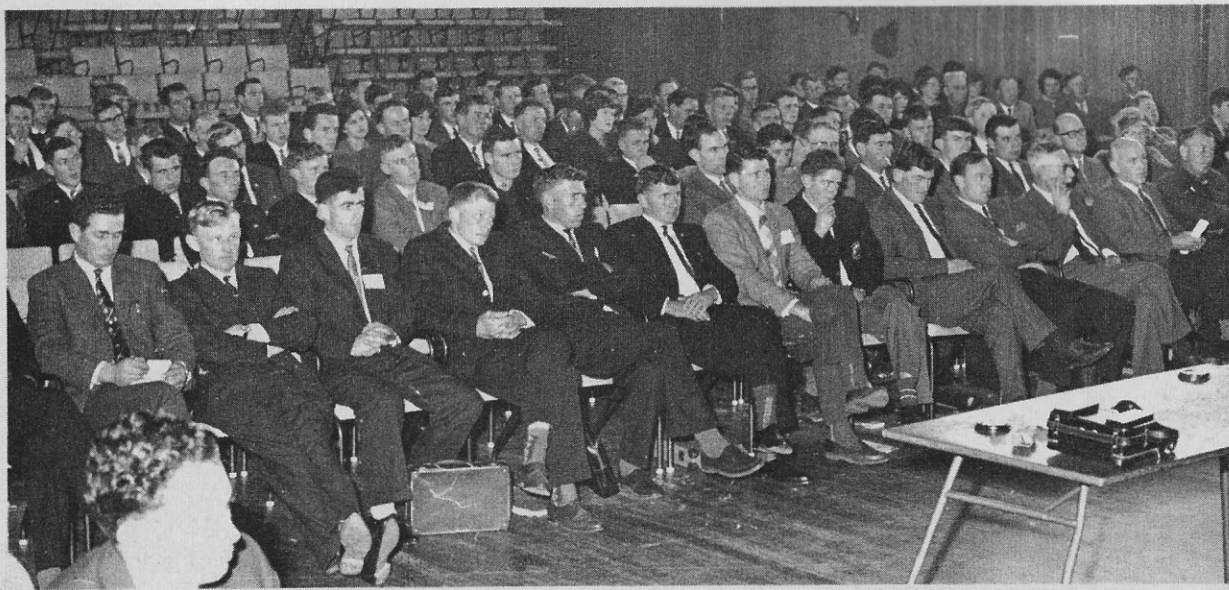

The Te Mara (Fitzroy) company of Guides recently held a camp fire, where they prepared and cooked their own tea. The fire they built would have been large enough to have cooked an ox, and was most welcome on a cool evening, but they were only sizzling sausages and camp scones. It was enlightening to see edible things come from what started out to be a gooey mess.

Y.F.C. Dominion Conference

The Dominion conference of YFC recently took place in the city. Young farmers from all parts of New Zealand came to air their views, and in some cases try their luck in the Radio Leadership contest. It would appear from some of the talk at the conference that an all-out effort will have to be made to get more members for YFC and to encourage present members to take a more active part in the affairs of the clubs.

Taranaki's Hockey Win

With better teamwork and far more dash in front of goal, the Taranaki men's team defeated a touring Franklin team by 5-2 at Te Mote Park recently. Thrills For The Youngsters

In this age of kicks for the young, speed seems to be the first ingredient. We were watching the youngsters at the recent Winter Show, and on one of the newer types of roundabouts, the kids flocked on to get this kick from speed.

Then we went out to the Motor Cycle Club's flying quarter-mile at Waitara road. Again, the youngsters were there in their hundreds to watch other young people doing their best to knock up the elusive 'ton'. This then is the age of SPEED and it seems that they enjoy it (at least during their leisure hours).

Moturoa's John Marshall is beaten to the ball

Moturoa Outplayed In Chatham Cup Soccer

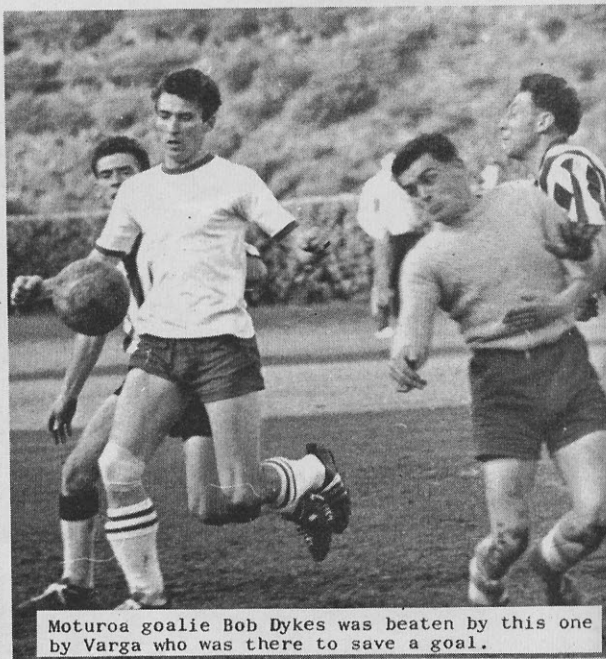

Playing far below their standard, Moturoa were outplayed by United of Wanganui. The home side started like champions and were two goals up in a few minutes, but from then on it was a case of how soon could United get enough goals to win. It transpired that at full time the teams had scored two goals each, but in extra time the visitors scored a further four goals to put the issue beyond doubt.

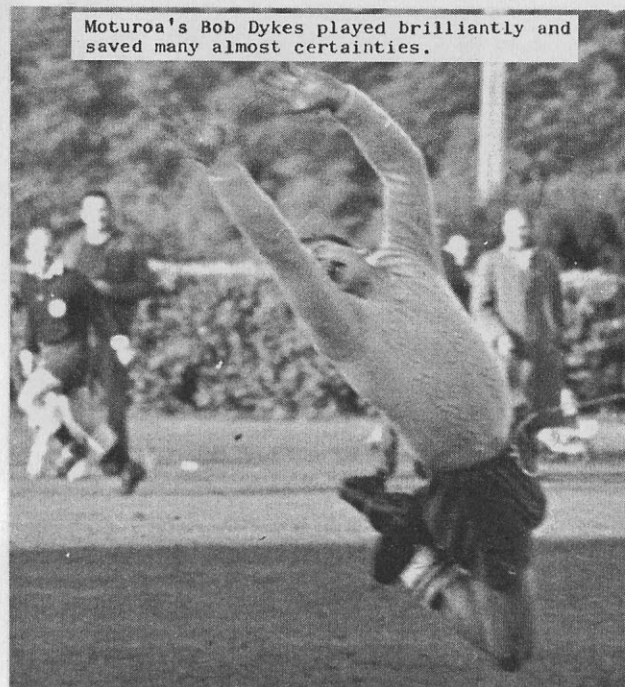

Over to you!

Lotzie Varga was a tower of strength for the home side, saving the situation time and time again.

Moturoa goalie Bob Dykes was beaten by this one by Varga who was there to save a goal.

Moturoa's Bob Dykes played brilliantly and saved many almost certainties.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

Almost the same thing happened last season at Wanganui, when United and Moturoa drew at full time, with United emerging winners in the extra spell. Moturoa were completely mastered in the forward line by the virile and fast defence of United.

Head teacher at the IHC School, NP, is a friend to all the children. Ken Clapcott is here shown taking the children for their morning singing lesson. He and his assistants have a charm that the children are quick to perceive.

HELPING THE INTELLECTUALLY HANDICAPPED CHILDREN

Licensed your car? Then you will have your IHC key tag. And we are going to show you just what good work is being done, here in New Plymouth, for these unfortunate children. After looking through these pictures, you might care to make a donation to the Intellectually Handicapped Children's Association and so help these children who by the nature of their illness are invariably unable to help themselves. So, dear reader, open up your hearts and purses and send a donation to the IHC Association. The address is on your key tag.

Morning tea is as much a ritual to these children as to any other person.

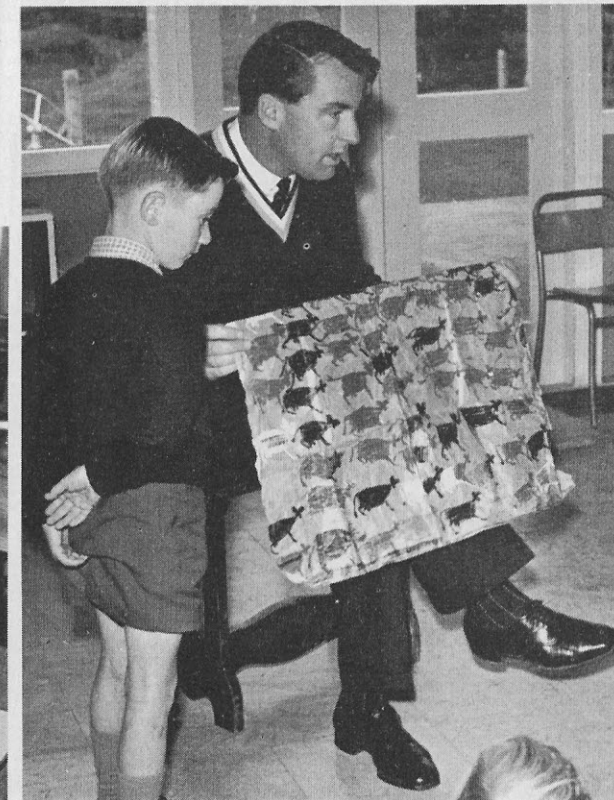

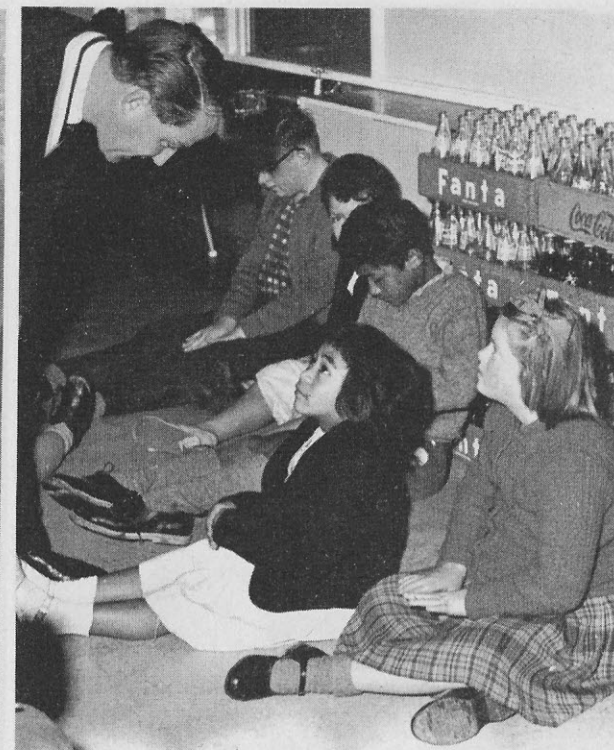

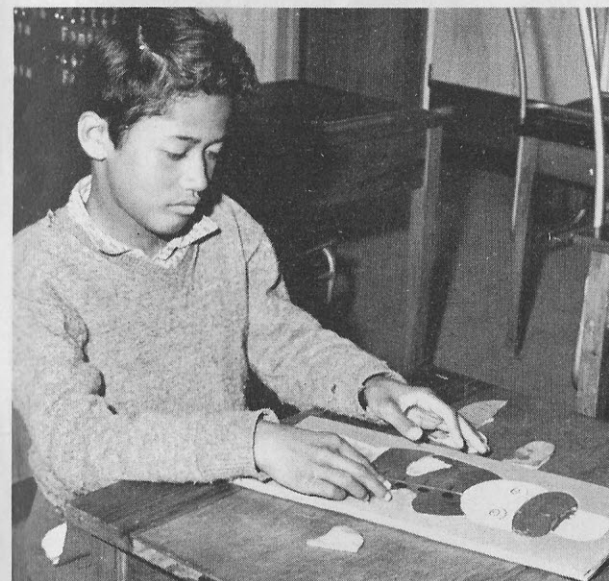

Assistant Mrs H. Thompson gives the children their morning tea.

THEIR SCHOOL A PARADISE

So popular is the IHC school that pupils come from Stratford in the south, Urenui in the north and as far as Oaonui down the coast. These children attend for the normal school hours, and in an effort to help these unfortunates the school has plenty to make their lives more tolerable. Above: Here the children play on one of the pieces of equipment specially designed for them. Below: Jig-saw puzzles, donated by a local manufacturer, are used by all the children. Above, right: Individual care and a friendly word from Ken Clapcott. Below, right: Showing the class a work of one of the pupils.

SMILING FACES REWARD FOR IHC TEACHERS

A worthwhile reward for the teachers and helpers at the IHC school is the ringing laughter of the children as they play and learn. Above: Help for the helpless. Mrs A.Clare, an assistant carries one of the pupils out into the sunshine. Below: See-saw is a popular attraction for the children. Above, right: Despite their inability to play as other children do, it is surprising just how agile they are. Below, right: Most of the pupils are brought to school in a special bus.

Turning donated wool into mops is an interesting job. Supervisor Mr W.Conway watches the progress of a worker.

IHC WORKSHOP A HIVE OF INDUSTRY

After school age, the pupil can go on to the IHC workshop in Leach Street, where he or she can help in producing the many articles manufactured in the workshop. Local businesses have been helpful in supplying materials and in some cases tasks for these people to perform. In giving these folk something to do, the IHC Association is doing invaluable work. Volunteer helpers come in to teach and advise on the three days a week that the workshop is open. The workshop is NOT self-supporting, but could be with a little help from YOU.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S VISIT TO MANUKORIHI

Nearly 2000 people greeted the Governor-General, Sir Bernard Fergusson, who with Lady Fergusson attended the Sir Maui Pomare commemoration service at Manukorihi Pa, Waitara, recently. Members of the Maori race came to this service from many parts of New Zealand. In this photograph of the greeting, Sir Bernard and Lady Fergusson watch warrior Jack Katene. FEEDING THE 500

For the visit of the Governor-General, the cooks at the hangi prepared an astounding menu comprising half a ton of potatoes, 1½ cows, 7 pigs, 200 mutton birds, hundreds of eels and 600 pauas. It was a mammoth task, but not much was left after the meal was over.

Fifty Riders Join Hunt

Riding with the Taranaki Hunt is becoming increasingly popular. Over 50 riders, including members of the local Pony Club, recently turned out for a Sunday afternoon hunt on Carrington Road, about two miles out from the city. The weather was kind to the riders, and a very enjoyable afternoon was had.

Anniversaries

Below: Mr and Mrs A. Hall, Hawera, who recently celebrated their diamond wedding, are shown cutting their cake at a family party. It is very evident by the picture above that this couple started something when they were married sixty years ago, because this picture is of their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. (DAVID PAUL STUDIOS).

Right: Mr and Mrs J.G. Turnbull, Dorset Avenue, NP, are another couple who have recently celebrated sixty years of happy marriage. They have lived in NP for forty years and have seen many changes. Their celebration took the form of a quiet family party.

Two Queen's Guides Receive Badges

Two more Queen's Guide badges were presented recently to two members of the Huatoki company. The two recipients, Margaret Miller and Maree Payne, have both been guides since they were 11 years old, and will now continue in the movement by becoming rangers. Above: District and company officers gathered for the ceremony at the Vogeltown school hall. Below: Provincial Commissioner Mrs E.R. Kitchingman congratulates Maree Payne, while Margaret Miller awaits her turn.

Motor Cyclists Top The "Ton"

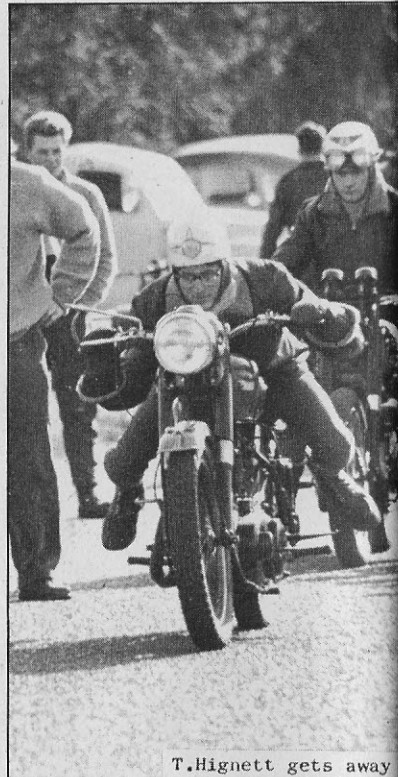

In these days of speed 100 mph doesn't seem so much as it used to, but try doing it on two wheels in the short space of half a mile. This was the aim of many motor cyclists of the North Taranaki Motor Cycle Club when they recently held their flying quarter on the Waitara road. Top speed for the day was near to 120 mph...anybody for a ride on the pillion? A particularly large crowd came to watch these riders as they streaked up Waitara road, many of whom were the motor cycle boys of the village, who must have admired the riders as they kept complete control of their machines as they sped along at speeds in excess of the "Ton".

First Queen's Guide Award For Fitzroy

The 40-year-old Te Mara troop of Guides recently had the Queen's Guide award made to one of its members, 16-year-old Doris Carr. This is the first Queen's award to be made to a member of this company. A special afternoon was held to make this important award, with parents and friends of the company attending. An aunt and uncle of Doris's travelled all the way from Auckland to be present.

Future home, New Plymouth.

Steeplechasers

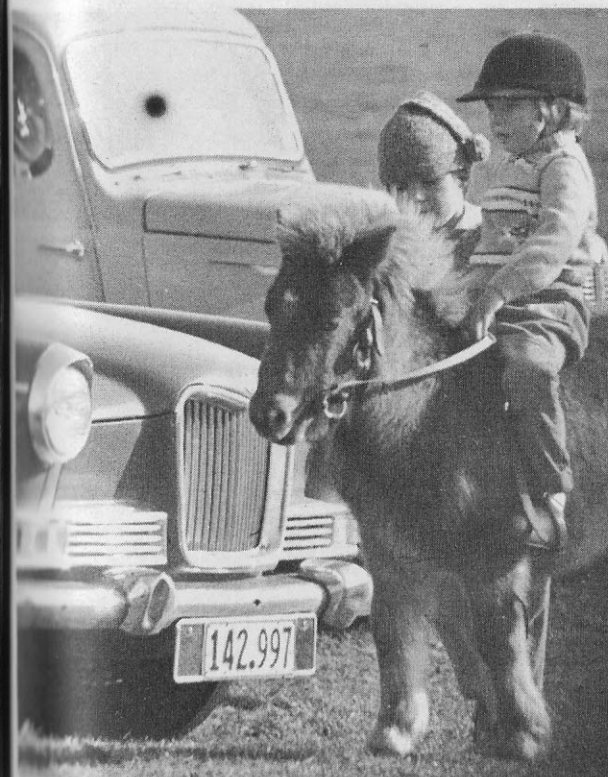

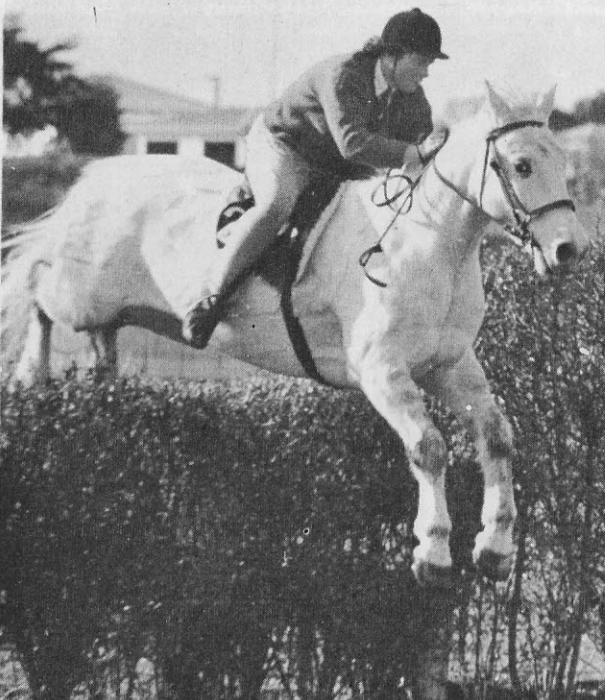

Thrills and spills were the order of the day at the recent Taranaki Hunt Club's steeplechase meeting. The horses raced on a gruelling course over hilly country, providing the many spectators with a grandstand view of the whole course.

LADY JUMPERS

As is always the way, with horses in their natural element, rather than in a show jumping ring, some excellent jumping was witnessed. This was very evident in the junior competition, some of whom are shown on this page.

Above: Just because this pony has a bushy mane it doesn't mean that it is a "Beagle", though it won't much bigger. His name is Gossamer, and he is being ridden by Jillian Oliver. It was, quite naturally, only on show.

Widows and Widowers Celebrate

Ten years ago a small body of widows and widowers started what they thought would be a select social club. Now, the club can boast many members, who enjoy dances and outings, in company which has so much in common. During that ten years, though the club isn't a matrimonial agency, thirty of its members have re-married. The club celebrated its birthday with a dance and social at the Old Folks Hall.

New I.H.C. Workshop Opened

Married

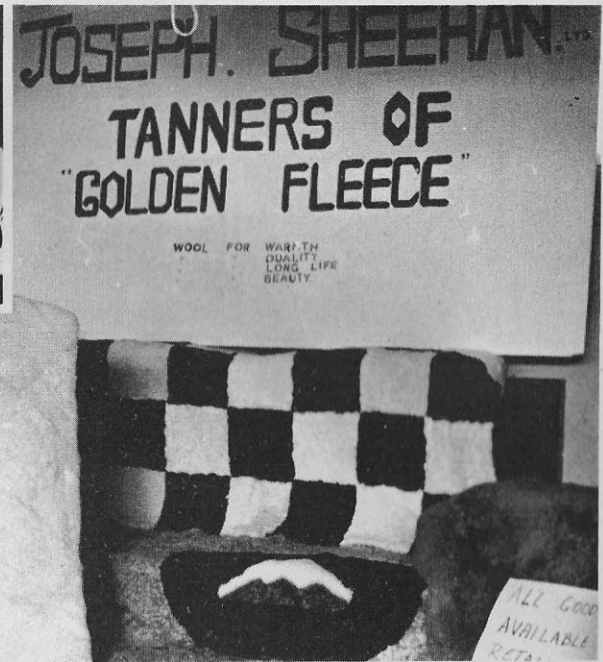

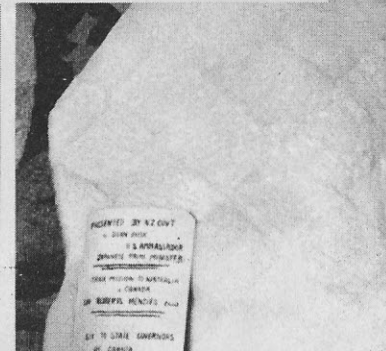

Above: PHILLIPS-HODSON. At St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Inglewood, Joan, only daughter of Mr and Mrs L.E. Hodson, Inglewood, to Roy, elder son of Mr and Mrs H.W.E. Phillips, Okato. The bridesmaids were Lyn Phillips, sister of the groom, Okato, and Betty Smith, Tataraimaka. John Phillips, brother of the groom, Okato, was the best man, and Keith Hodson, brother of the bride, Waitara, was the groomsmen. Future home, Okato. (VOGUE STUDIOS).

Below: MULLIGAN-JOYCE. At St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Hawera, Barbara, only daughter of Mr J. Joyce, Hawera, and the late Mrs Joyce, to Thomas, youngest son of Mrs M. Mulligan, NP, and the late Mr Mulligan. Yvonne Houghton, Manaia, and Janet Rawcliffe, Hawera, were the bridesmaids, M. Brophy, Opuake, was the best man and Keith Milham, Patea, was the groomsmen. The flower-girl was Dianne Mulligan, Eltham. Future home, Hawera. (DAVID PAUL STUDIOS).

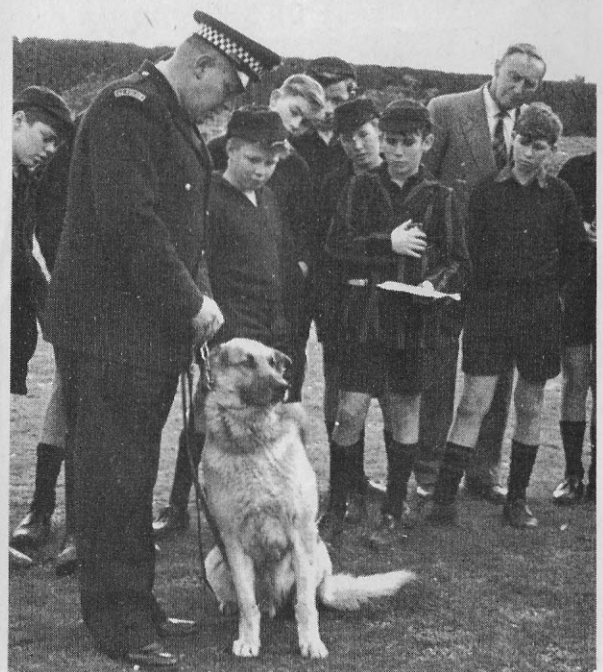

"WHAT STRATFORD MAKES- A ROTARY PROJECT - MAKES STRATFORD"

How very true!

STRATFORD SHOW A HUGE SUCCESS

Attendances beyond the wildest dreams of the organisers marked one of the best industrial exhibitions ever held in the province. It was simply amazing to see how many industries are already operating in Stratford and district. Quite naturally the dairying industry was well represented, but it surprised many that there was so much of secondary industry evident through the show. Above: Some of the beautiful sheepskin rugs made in the town, and exhibited by Joseph Sheehan. Left: Entertainer from the STHS was much appreciated. Below left: Rotary President Jack Callaghan at the official opening. Rotary sponsored the project. Below, right: Police dog Cito was the centre of interest with the schoolboys.

STRATFORD'S INDUSTRY

Above: One of the central features of the show was the collective exhibition by the Taranaki Manufacturers' Association, which shows that the province is fast becoming a hive of secondary industry.

Below: With the response to this Industrial Exhibition as an indication, it won't take the Progressive Association very long to achieve its target. New Plymouth could well do with an association of this nature.

Eltham's New Baths Take Shape

Much voluntary work has already gone into the building of the new swimming baths for Eltham. As a community project, it has attracted an army of volunteers almost every week end, with the result that work is proceeding fast enough to have the project completed by the start of the summer swimming season. We rather like the notice at the entrance, which has had its effect on the work already done. Eltham must have great community spirit in getting the project as far advanced as it is at present.

OFF TO THE HUNT

When the Taranaki Hunt Club held a recent meet on a property a little way up the Carrington road, most of the children of the Pony Club attended, which resulted in about fifty horsemen following the hounds. This picture was taken just as a group of riders started out on their journey in the wake of the hounds.
